Interlocking Arrows – This symbol is similar in origin and meaning to the 'Key' pattern. Men and women alike were warriors among these ancient peoples.

Celtic Arches – Another variation on woven knots, these patterns always contain a keen sense of rhythm, balance, and proportion.

Roman Key – Key patterns have long been described as spirals in a straight line and are suggestive of Mediterranean art. The repetition of the pattern, with no beginning and no end symbolizes eternity.

Celtic Link – The "Dance of Life" or eternity is symbolized by the continuous link pattern, a talisman that allows the couple to tap into the sacred life force.

Celtic Love Knot – Interwoven designs symbolize life's journey, and suggest interconnectedness, creating a spiritual centre of vital energies.

Celtic Spiral – Spirals are one of the oldest elements in Celtic art and are believed to represent the life-force, the sun and the seasons of the year.
